Paddington

I love Paddington because he is funny.

Paddington is a bear.

Paddington makes lots of mess.

Paddington goes down the stairs in a bath!

Paddington wears a blue coat and a red hat. He keeps marmalade sandwiches under his hat for when he is hungry!

I Love KFC, on Fridays I go after school with my carers.

Christmas Dinner

By Bilen

I like sitting around the table with my family for Christmas dinner because I love my family. I also enjoy all the yummy Christmas sweets and treats.

We all wear Christmas jumpers and pull Christmas crackers together! I like the popping sound. Inside is a toy, joke and a hat.

Bowling

Bowling is Fun! On Saturdays I go to Hollywood Bowl in Southampton, with Mummy, Daddy and my sister. I use the bowling ramp to help me roll the ball down the alley! I have knocked down 1 skittle!

The Pumpkin Rebellion

Winchester Outpost 20, 3pm *-

"I repeat, there's something in the atmosphere."

A couple of hours later the object has crashed. We sent in a surveillance team with hazmat units.

"It's an asteroid! And there's weird orange liquid coming out of it. We are bringing it to base."

We put it in a lab and only hazmat units can enter. The entrance is blocked with two airlock doors and there are armed soldiers just in case, equipped with gas masks. Only trusted personnel are able to go into the lab. They always have to wear a gas mask in case something is poisonous.

A couple of days later, Southampton, Wednesday - Ryan's birthday. Like a baby you can't leave them alone, some dumb scientist thought it could be good, but that's why we call him Stupid Patrick. But, he thought it would be a smart idea to bring a pumpkin into the lab.

"I wonder what could be?" Said Patrick.

A couple of hours later, "I repeat, I repeat, the pumpkin is standing up, it's able to walk, fire at The mutant, I repeat, I repeat, this is code red, all- personnel leave now."

After a couple days the military is surrounding the lab. Nobody can enter it, if only we knew what that was. It's a big thing, a pumpkin planet capital ship, the octobernds are the pumpkins. The planet is entering the atmosphere.

We are doomed. Wait, we have missiles!" Said the General.

Stupid Patrick got only one smart idea in his entire life. "We should use the orange liquid from the pumpkin to make carrot creatures!"

Meanwhile every scientist says, "noooooo, you're stupid! Who hired this dummy?"

"Yeah my brother's pretty stupid," said Smart Steve, "we should reverse engineer the orange liquid."

They put the liquid into the missiles, they shoot the missiles.

KABOOM!!!!!!!!!! The pumpkin planet capital spaceship blew up.

"What should we do with those mutants?" Says a random scientist "I know - hey Johnny, get the flame thrower."

"Okay" Says Johnny.

(the end)

By the way this isn't a real story, enjoy it.

Tru's interview with OT

How do you work with the physios?

Jo said “we have to because we’re looking at the child as a whole person.”

Kelly helps when you get a new chair, she
works with the physios
to make sure you’re sitting in it properly.

Why did you become an OT?

Jo said “there weren’t enough wheelchair users in mainstream”, so that is why she came to Cedar.

Kelly was an SSA in another school and she liked what the OT did. She wanted to do it for a living and help children become more independent.

Do you work somewhere else as well?

Jo said “I work 2 days at Cedar School and 3 days in the community.” In the community Jo said she helps people who find it hard to do buttons or zips, or help with their handwriting.

Kelly mainly works at Cedar, but also works at another special school and in the community.

A Message from the Adults!

What a fantastic start to the year it has been for our Newspaper Club! Everyone has worked incredibly hard, diving into a wonderful range of projects—from creative stories and engaging interviews to thoughtful articles about their favourite things. It has been a joy to see both new members and returning journalists bringing fresh ideas, enthusiasm, and teamwork to every session. We're so proud of what this group has already achieved, and we can't wait to see what they create next!
